

How to find the instruction manual

1. When products are packaged in more than one, boxes will be labelled alphabetically. For example as shown below for the product range CTA710-1D, there are two boxes, A and B. Within the blue circle, you will notice that there is A+B within brackets. This means that there are two boxes for this product, A and B. The letter in front of the bracket defines the box number.

2. Box A will always carry the instruction manual

3. It can be found inside the box on top of the foam as shown below.
